

10 questions to... Mike Newman

As a motorsport fan, Mike Newman has previously broken the World Blind Land Speed Record and plans to regain it this summer. Here he answers 10 questions about his career...

How did your enthusiasm for motorsports begin?

I have always been interested in motor cars since I was a little boy and I am especially keen on powerful cars. In my teens I became really interested in motorsport itself; I don't believe there was a particular spark, but I like to see how motor cars perform in a race.

How does it feel when attempting to break the World Blind Land Speed Record?

For me as a person who can't drive on a day-to-day basis, the opportunity to drive a car is fantastic. To experience that freedom and exhilaration for a few moments is really great.

How was your experience of your land speed record attempt last year?

A lot of planning and preparation goes into these events and we were in the desert, where we had a technical problem with the car, which meant we had to abort the attempt. At the time that was very disappointing for me, but in hindsight, maybe it was a blessing in disguise. Since then, we have managed at long last to speak to the local authority at Pendine Sands, and they are keen for us to attempt the record there.

What do you regard as the single most important moment in your career so far?

As a working man, being employed is a significant achievement. I am pleased that I have been able to forge a career that I enjoy and do well in. As far as record breaking is concerned, the most exciting moment is when you hear you have been successful. You have the excitement of the event itself and the thrill of the run.

10 questions to... Mike Newman

As a motorsport fan, Mike Newman has previously broken the World Blind Land Speed Record and plans to regain it this summer. Here he answers 10 questions about his career...

How did your enthusiasm for motorsports begin?

I have always been interested in motor cars since I was a little boy and I am especially keen on powerful cars. In my teens I became really interested in motorsport itself; I don't believe there was a particular spark, but I like to see how motor cars perform in a race.

How does it feel when attempting to break the World Blind Land Speed Record?

For me as a person who can't drive on a day-to-day basis, the opportunity to drive a car is fantastic. To experience that freedom and exhilaration for a few moments is really great.

How was your experience of your land speed record attempt last year?

A lot of planning and preparation goes into these events and we were in the desert, where we had a technical problem with the car, which meant we had to abort the attempt. At the time that was very disappointing for me, but in hindsight, maybe it was a blessing in disguise. Since then, we have managed at long last to speak to the local authority at Pendine Sands, and they are keen for us to attempt the record there.

What do you regard as the single most important moment in your career so far?

As a working man, being employed is a significant achievement. I am pleased that I have been able to forge a career that I enjoy and do well in. As far as record breaking is concerned, the most exciting moment is when you hear you have been successful. You have the excitement of the event itself and the thrill of the run.

